were made by a number of the guests.

After holding two meetings to consider the matter it was decided by the Seniors to have Cooper for the class photographer. At the first meeting it was voted to have an Ann Arbor firm, but the feeling among many of the class that Ypsilanti business men should be patronized by the students in return for the advertising they do in Normal publications, led the class to reconsider the matter, with the above result. The low rate ($2) will probably result in all the Seniors having copies of their features made, which will result in a valuable class picture. This will be in the form of an album.

The regular Wednesday Conservatory